

Girls Trip to Nantucket

JUNE 7, 2019 | TRAVEL

Happy Friday! I took my first summer trip (I'd call it a vacation but we spent most of it working) this week, and I'm so excited to share the photos and details with you today. I've gotten a ton of requests for a guide to Nantucket but this was only my third time there and I don't know enough yet to give you guys a proper guide, so instead, I recommend checking out Mackenzie's Nantucket Guide. She has been going to Nantucket every summer for her entire life so she's kind of an expert. I did include a list of where we shopped below.

Out of all three visits, my favorite restaurants are Lola41 and Cru for what it's worth.

I was on the island this time with my friends Lauren and Kaki, the sisters behind Dudley Stephens, and our friend and photographer, Julia Dags. The entire group was chill and there were no diva moments so everything felt relaxed and easy-going, even when our flight was delayed and we decided to change our travel plans home at the last minute. Without sounding too woo-woo, Lauren, Kaki, and I are all Cancers so we are on the same vibe a lot of the time.

I had a really hard time being away from Amalia this time around, and I don't plan to go on any trips without her again this summer (unless something comes up from work) because it was that brutal. I know it's technically good for both of us but we both felt a little down and missed each other for the three days that I was gone. Our reunion yesterday was so sweet though. I climbed into her crib when she woke up and she hugged me tightly for a good five minutes. I didn't cry... I swear.

Where we stayed on Nantucket

I was invited out to the island by The Wauwinet Hotel to check out a cottage they have on the property, The Anchorage House, that was redesigned by my favorite home brand, Serena & Lily. I fantasize about Serena & Lily decorating my entire home so I couldn't wait to see what they did! It was just as beachy and perfect as I imagined it would be. It was light, bright, airy, and comfy. All four of us had a lot of work to do so we spent a lot of time at the kitchen and patio tables with our laptops. We also drank a fair amount of rosé around those same tables!

I am dying to go back with Anel and Amalia because it has multiple bedrooms and two floors so we could put her to bed and then hang out downstairs like we do at home, without needing to go through the hassle of finding a sitter on vacation. The other reason it would be great with kids is that it's right on the beach so you can walk back to the house to change a diaper or get a snack whenever you need to.

The Wauwinet is about a 15-minute drive from town which I really like because it's quieter and far from all the tourists, but if you want to be in the center of the action, I'd stay closer to downtown. That said, The Anchorage House comes with a car you can use whenever you want which made it easy for us to go into town every day.

Where we shopped on Nantucket:

goop: Definitely my new fave. Beautiful displays and tons of fashion, home, and clean beauty products.

Milly & Grace: Boho chic fashion and jewelry. Lauren and I bought little friendship bracelets for our group of friends back home.

Native Shoes: While we were in there I learned that you can bring in old Native Shoes and they recycle them by turning them into playgrounds! Plus you get 10% off. Read more about their recycling program here.

Beautycounter: Their little pop-up on the island is so pretty and I'm officially a fan of their skincare after my visit to the store last fall. I am partnering with them this month to talk about their makeup and I can now say that it really is as amazing as everyone says!

Skinnydip Nantucket: This is a cool store because they have a bunch of different preppy brands buy-in for their own section. The selection of product is spot on. I could literally buy every single thing in here.

Lilly Pulitzer: My friends at Lilly DM'd me when we were there and invited us into the store to outfit my whole group of girlfriends which was beyond generous and so much fun for us. It was the biggest Lilly store I've ever seen, but I'm pretty sure I picked the best outfit in the entire place.

Nantucket Bookworks: This is the cutest little independent bookstore. Check it out if you need a beach read on the island or just want to experience that bookstore feeling and smell that bookstore smell.

CJ Laing: There is a large chance you will go broke in this store. The dresses are unreal. I didn't buy one but wanted them all!

What I wore on Nantucket

All of my outfit details are listed and linked below each image as you scroll. And you can check out the bathing suits I brought here. I hope you enjoy this little photo diary of a fabulous girls trip.

*Lilly outfits from left to right (all gifted): Romper (looks like a dress) / Palazzo Pants / Top and Skirt Set / Pink Jeans

Anchorage House living room styled by Serena & Lily

Dudley Stephens fleece top / Skirt borrowed from Lauren but similar here / Earrings (gifted)

The goop store

Dudley Stephens Dresses / Chappywrap Blanket / Packable Hat

Serena & Lily Chairs (I have the same ones!) / Pendant

Dudley Stephens Park Slope fleeces (I prefer the thinner terry fabric) / Everlane Jeans / Native Shoes

Serena & Lily Chair / Pillow / Lamps / Mirror

Lilly Pulitzer Set (gifted)

Sunset rosé at The Wauwinet

Cocktail hour on the lawn

Oysters at Toppers

Morning gossip / My PJ pants / Lauren's Fleece Scarf

Our private path to the beach

Girlfriend Collective leggings and bra (full review to come)

DS Park Slope Turtleneck in Terry / Levi's Denim Shorts / Serena & Lily Chair

J.Crew Sweater / White Jeans / MZ Wallace Striped Tote (gifted) / Dudley Stephens Pineapple Tote

Pretty flowers around town

J.Crew One-Piece (gifted)

Thank you to The Wauwinet and Serena & Lily for hosting us at this beautiful place! Photos by the amazing Julia Dags.