nose in a book, toes in the sanc

What's your beachgoer style?

The Beachcomber

Gifts from the sea are your thrill—you enjoy walks along the shoreline and allow yourself to get lost in the hunt just long enough to escape the rest of the world.

The Beach Bum

You're a seeker of all things relaxing and Zenlike–grab a book and a beverage and you're set for the day.

The Beach Enthusiast

The beach is about action for you. Catch a wave, start a game in the sand, scour the ocean floor with your snorkel gear—no need to leave till your mission is accomplished.

The Beach Beholder

You're a "regular" here and you're here with a purpose: to watch the surfers, the sand sculptors, or maybe to capture the perfect wave on camera.

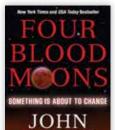

If you're heading to the beach this summer, consider some of these lesser-known beaches we've uncovered—each with its own unique personality. And for those who believe that every beach pairs well with a good book, you're in luck. We've included our recommendations for the perfect beach-book pairing.

The Beach Bum

Wauwinet

perfect for the beachbum looking for a

HAGEE

Four Blood Moons: Something is About to Change by John Haggee

Non-fiction from Worthy Publishing

Inspired by NASA projections and history, John Hagee reveals direct connections between four upcoming blood-moon eclipses and what they portend for Israel and all of humankind.

Emma, Mr. Knightley and Chili-Slaw Dogs by Mary Jane Hathaway

Fiction from Howard Books

This story of a modern-day journalist is a comical contemporary take on the Jane Austen classic, featuring a colorful cast of spunky Southern belles.

by Curtis Sittenfeld

Fiction from Random House

A mesmerizing novel of family and identity, loyalty and deception, and the delicate line between truth and belief, this story is about twin sisters with paranormal senses. This book exemplifies Sittenfeld's unerring talent for finding the extraordinary moments in our everyday lives.